

LACDMH CELEBRATES ANNUAL COUNTY DAY AT THE LA COUNTY FAIR
By Karen Zarsadiaz-Ige, LACDMH Public Information Officer

The Los Angeles County Fair is a nice transition from the dog days of summer into the start of fall. Every year, the fair designates a day for "County Day" so residents can learn about all the services available to them through the county. This year, County Day took place on Sunday, September 9th at the fairgrounds in Pomona. This particular year also happened to mark the 90th anniversary of the annual fair.

The Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health (LACDMH) Public Information Office (PIO) joined several of the other county departments in support of County Day to share information and resources with the community. At the LACDMH booth, the Emmy Award-winning Profiles of Hope series was shown and visitors at the booth were given information about the department and its programs.

Other county departments who participated at the fair with booths included Probation, Sheriff, Coroner, Beaches & Harbors, Animal Care, Public Health, Public Works, Health Services, Children & Family Services, Library, Parks & Recreation and many more. Various departments even took part in the County Day parade that circled the fairgrounds.
